

If I have already had COVID-19 and recovered, do I still need to get vaccinated with a COVID-19 vaccine?

Due to health risks associated with COVID-19 and reinfection Yes, vaccine should be offered to you if you have already had COVID-19 or not. At this time, experts do not know how long someone is protected from getting sick again after recovering from COVID-19.

- We are recommending most people wait about 90 days after they have COVID before they get their vaccine.

We won't know how long immunity produced by vaccination lasts until we have more data on how well the vaccines work.

Both natural immunity and vaccine-induced immunity are important aspects of COVID-19 that experts are trying to learn more about. CDC will keep the public informed as new evidence becomes available, Nisqually clinic will alert the community of any updates.
